Transformation
by David Le Goon
Acrylic and ink on watercolour paper framed 75cm x 60cm
$1350

This work explores themes of self transformation and pays homage to our trans community. Mythological stories depict koi fish swimming upstream, in attempt to reach the top of a river, transforming them into powerful dragons. The koi dragon in this painting represent the transitional period between the former and latter and is an analogy of strength and growth and hope.

Rubber
by Garrie Maguire
Archival digital print (AP) framed 76cm x 60cm
$600

During CV19 we faced a lot of frustration, interpersonal relationships were put on hold or into a holding pattern. Again sex became dangerous, like the previous HIV pandemic. When restrictions eased, I collaborated with a dear friend and made a series around our fetish life. This work is influenced by my years of commercial photography, thus I wanted a 'clean' image that contrasts compelling a feel and difficult subject.

Zentai
by Garrie Maguire
Archival digital print (AP) framed 60cm x 76cm
$600

I find that fetish allows for beautiful images. As these two men became objects. The audience can not see them. They have no age, no ethnicity or identity, that is all removed. Instead we have a moment of tenderness and care, in silver and blue
